Feather Star

The sculpture was first installed in the atrium of the library, when it was part of the old Trojan Union Building. On February 16, 1987, the building burned to the ground as the result of an arsonist's fire. Gary Parks, an 18-year veteran of the Everett Fire Department, was killed in 1987 battling the fire that destroyed EvCC's library and student union.

The Feather Star survived the fire and when the new Gary Parks Student Union was completed, the sculpture was re-installed in its new location. The Feather Star has become a symbol of renewal and rebirth for the college. It is the inspiration for the three spires in the Everett Community College logo.
