DEGREE AND CERTIFICATE OPTIONS

Associate in Applied Science-Transfer
Prepares students for more immediate employment in the criminal justice field and will transfer to Central Washington University's Information Technology and Administrative Management (ITAM) bachelor degree program. The ITAM program provides additional education and skill-building in leadership and management that broadens career options. Students should review other possible transfer options available at the time they graduate.

Associate in Arts and Sciences-Direct Transfer Agreement
For students planning to transfer to a university for a major in criminal justice or a related field, this degree transfers to any public university in Washington State, as well as many public and private universities in the Northwest region.

Certificate in Cybercrime Investigation
Provides a bridge between criminal justice foundational knowledge and the growing law enforcement challenges of cybercrime.

CAREER OPTIONS AND REQUIREMENTS
Students interested in a criminal justice career should be able to work under pressure, accept direction, possess effective verbal and written communication skills, be flexible, compassionate, dependable, honest, fair, motivated, physically fit, and committed to equity.

Examples of Criminal Justice Careers
Law Enforcement, including Police Officer, State Trooper, and Sheriff's Department, Records Specialist, Community Service Officer, Victim Advocate, Evidence Technician, Public Policy, Law and the Courts, Probation and Parole, Juvenile Justice, Corrections Officer, Federal Agencies, Fish and Wildlife, Park Ranger, Private Security, and others.

Employment Requirements
Employment requirements vary from agency to agency. Interested persons are encouraged to contact the agency of their choice regarding specific requirements, for example, vision, age, physical ability, background, education, and experience. Students interested in a criminal justice career should possess effective communication skills; be able to exercise judgment under stress; and be able to work cooperatively with a variety of individuals.

The process of securing employment within the criminal justice system is highly competitive, and not everyone can or will meet the hiring standards. Criminal convictions, questionable behavior, substantial or recent drug involvement, negative issues involving veracity and integrity, or a poor driving record are all factors which may affect suitability for employment within the criminal justice system.

Employment Requirements Specific to Law Enforcement
Testing usually consists of a written exam, a physical agility test, an oral board, a complete background investigation, medical and psychological reviews, a polygraph (lie detector) test, an FBI records check and employment history verification. The physical agility test may include a timed 1.5-mile run, a minimum number of push-ups and sit-ups, a flexibility test and other tests that the hiring agency deems appropriate. Criminal Justice students are encouraged to enroll in a PEHW class or some other physical course each quarter to prepare for testing and to maintain a healthy lifestyle. Prior to employment, applicants must have or be able to obtain a valid driver's license.

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES
1. Apply the knowledge and verbal skills to effectively communicate with criminal suspects, victims, witnesses, persons in crisis and others in need.
2. Identify constitutional freedoms and rights, and how an ethical criminal justice system and participatory citizenship protect those freedoms and rights.
3. Analyze a criminal case to determine its appropriate processing, given an understanding of the jurisdiction and functions of police, courts and corrections as components of an interdependent criminal justice system.
4. Secure and process a crime scene, employing proper techniques of evidence gathering, searching, sketching and on-scene interviewing.
5. Analyze criminal statutes to determine the statutes' elements, constitutionality and proper application.
6. Produce written incident and investigative reports that are useful and professional in terms of accuracy, completeness, spelling and grammar.
7. Describe those applicant screening/selection processes typically utilized by law enforcement and corrections agencies for their entry-level positions.
